Leaving A Lasting Impression...

Do more than exist: live. Do more than touch: feel. Do more than look: observe. Do more than read: absorb. Do more than hear: listen. Do more than listen: understand. Do more than think: reflect. Do more than just talk: say something. People who have given up are ruled by their darkest mistakes, worst failures, and deepest regrets. If you want to be successful, then be governed by your finest thoughts, your highest enthusiasm, your greatest optimism, and your most triumphant experiences. To laugh often and much; to win the respect of intelligent people; to endure the betrayal of false friends; to appreciate beauty; to find the best in others; to leave the world a bit better; to know even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded. Success seems to be connected with action. Successful people keep moving. They make mistakes, but they don't quit. Success is not measured by what people accomplish, but by the opposition they have encountered, and the courage with which they maintain the struggle against overwhelming odds.

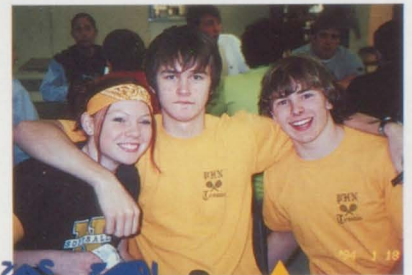

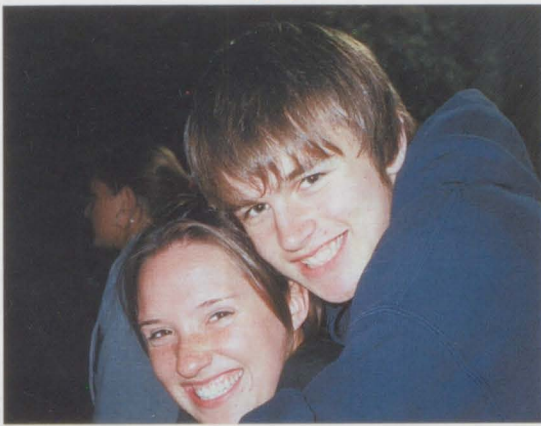

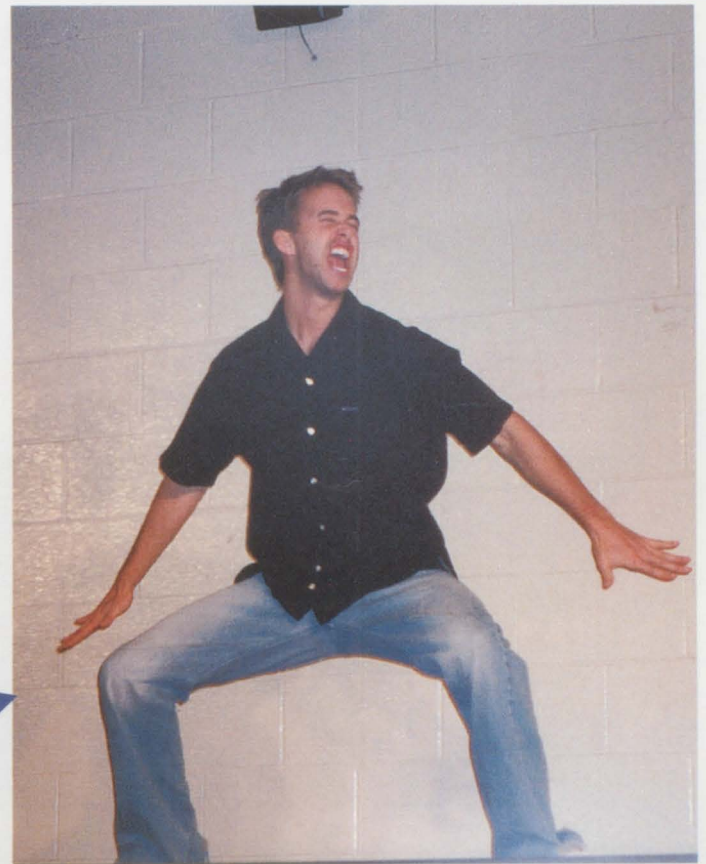

As we go through life, we want to look back on our high school experience and remember all the great times, the learning, the teaming, the cheering, and realize it prepared us for the future. We want to make sure we have made a lasting impression, our own imprint forever imbedded on the historical artifacts of this fine learning establishment. Can you truly say with pride that you have left a lasting impression?

Mardi Gras

Thinking great thoughts in the school courtyard, Chris Enders ('05) is dressed in a Toga for Mardi Gras Spirit Week 2004. There was great school participation during Spirit Week.

Starting their year's reign as the Queen's Court, the candidates pose for their first picture together.

As she leaps over the hurdle, Ashley Bruckner ('06) gives it her all in the obstacle course. Although the Juniors were disqualified in the obstacle course they did manage a second place victory overall.

An estatic group of Junior girls show their Husky spirit at the Mardi Gras Games Assembly. The girl's spirit showed in nearly every game in which they competed.

"Oh my gosh, this is sweet!" Katie Harrington ('05) estatically reacts to the historic proclamation. Being elected Homecoming Queen was one of the highlights of Katie's high school career, and the smile that brightened the stadium will be remembered by many.

Dressed head to toe for Hippie Day, during Mardi Gras Spirit Week Steve Young ('05) took a break from his rampage throughout the halls for a quick snap shot to document the occasion.

Homecoming the Husky way...

The crowds are cheering and the bleachers are packed with screaming students. School spirit starts at the Mardi Gras assembly. Later on that night people from all over come to show school pride and cheer for our Huskies. Then the next night everyone came together to dance and have a great time. This is Mardi Gras!!!

"It's the one time when everyone came together, crammed in a gymnasium, and screamed their heads off. I thought the pep assembly was great. It didn't only get me out of class but it also got me excited for the game later that night," Scott McCracken ('07) said. And of course everyone goes to support our Northern Huskies at the football game. Alyssa Smith ('07) stated, "The game was great, it's a great way to show your school spirit and to hangout with your friends." The game was also full of many different events such as the Cart Race, and the winners of the nominees from Queen's Court. Saturday night everyone came together to dance, laugh, and have a good time. Jordon Wozniak ('07) commented, "It was fun to hangout with my friends and to meet new people."

So Mardi Gras is just another eventful time at Northern to come together as a school, show your school spirit, and have a good time! Everyone definitely did just that!

let it snow...

It's filled with games, events, pep assemblies, and dances. It's SNOW! It's the one time when everyone gets together to play a sport and compete against other fellow Huskies. The big pep assembly was complete with music, games, and showing your team spirit. Last but not least, the Snow dance, when everyone came together to dance and socialize while listening to crazy and fun music. It's the one week when you show how proud you really are to be a Husky at Northern.

This whole big event starts out with a pep assembly. Tabby Ainsworth ('07) explained "Honestly the pep assembly gets me pumped because of all the music and games. I cheered right along with the teams, as if I was competing! People seem to be in a great mood at the pep assembly. The Husky Bone and the relays are the best parts." The noise and music really gets everyone in the team spirit! Saturday, the day the snow games are held, consisted of all grades competing in different sports. Danielle Ledesma ('07) said, "Snow football was great. I had a blast playing in the rain! It was fun playing all the different grades. I have lots of great things to look back on!"

However the juniors pulled ahead winning over all. After an eventful and hard working day of games came the dance. Lots of people had a fun night, such as Natalie Hillock ('07). "Snow was a blast! I had a great time. I have lots of fun memories to remember," Natalie Hillock ('07) said.

So Snow is the one time where those who weren't close become closer, teams work together, and everyone can show how proud they are to be a Northern Husky.
-Brooke Chichoracki

Going for the gold, "speedy" Trina Naz ('06) races her class to victory. Trina aided in the win of the class of 2006 during the Snow games assembly.

PHN Seniors and WORW members get the Huskies pumped up for that evening's Airband/ Snow dance during the Snow Games Assembly.

Equipped with a gold earring, a mop, and cleaning supplies, Mr. Davis poses for a picture to commemorate the occasion. Mr. Davis dressed as "Mr. Clean" for Famous Person Day during Snow Spirit Week.

During the Class of 2006 vs. the Class of 2007 Snow Football Game, Miranda Grumbles ('06) eagerly chases down Ashleigh Fagan ('07) to aid in her class's win!

Getting a little wrapped up in his work, Mr. Farnsworth helps the Class of 2006 win the Snow Games Assembly.

After a great effort at the grape toss, seniors, Casey Schlager ('05) and Grace Titus ('05) laugh as they remember their stellar performance.

Airband

Total 80's Flashback! Devin Smith and Corey Mortimer dance off to an 80's pop mix also seen in the popular movie American Wedding. Their performance earned them a second place finish.

Rocking out to Linkin Park, Troy Parker ('06), Steve Campbell ('06), Will Osieczonek ('06), and Josh Post add a bit of flare to airband. Although they didn't win, they did make the show much more exciting.

It's "Dirrty Dancing" as Demetri Stafford ('05) and Sarah Ruiz ('05) rock their own version of the "dirty" hit by Christina Aguilera. The crowd responded to the dancing with laughs and cheers.

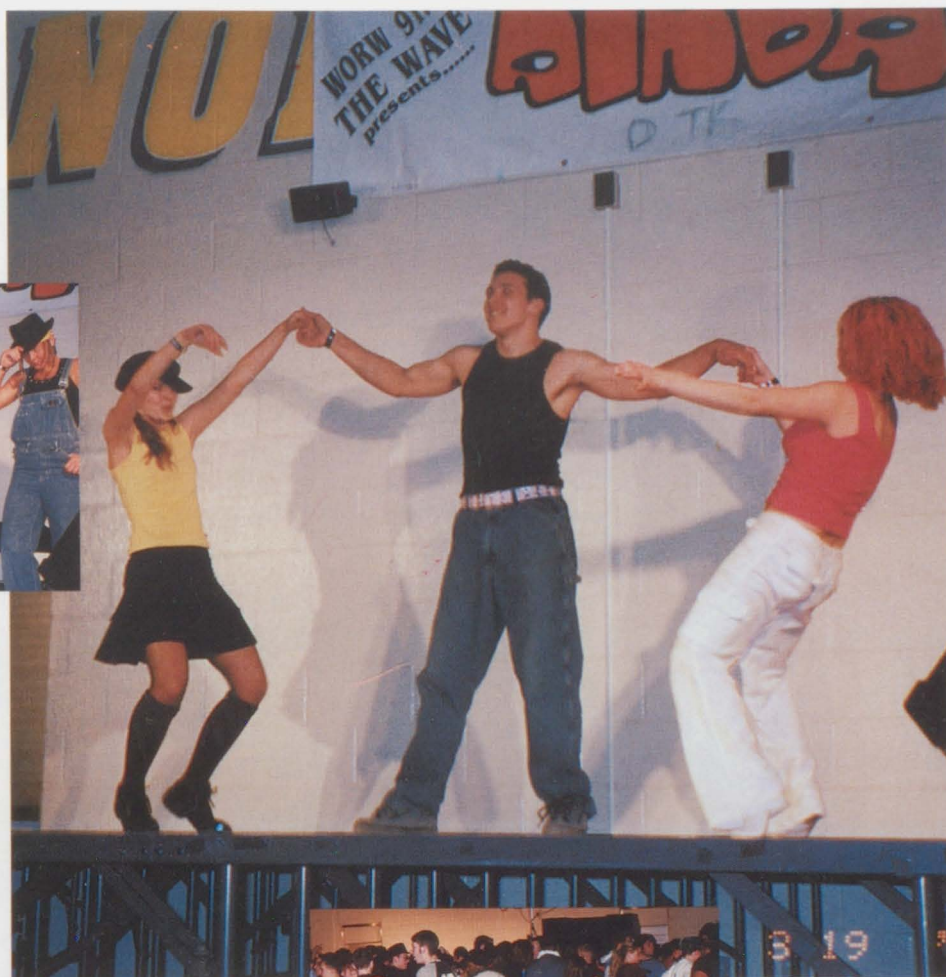

MCs Diana Haidar and Brian Farquhar get the party started as they introduce the next act. Airband MCs are senior managers on radio who introduce bands, announce winners, and keep the crowd pumped up!

Photo Credits:
Kate Gossman

Oops they did it! Emily Ladd ('06), Sam Reynolds ('05), and Ashley Worger ('06) dance at Airband 2004. They rocked out to Britney Spears' smash hit "Oops I Did It Again."

These overall clad seniors blew the competition away at Airband '04. A cowgirl mix of "Cotton Eye Joe" and "Wild Wild West" proved to be the crowd favorite.

Students of all classes finally share something... the joy of dancing to MUSIC of airband! Most students in attendance said they had a great time.

Sweat Baby Sweat...

Do you like to see people up on stage, dressed weird and dancing crazy? Well if you do then Airband is the place to be. Every year Northern's radio station, WORW, sponsors Airband and makes it possible. Airband is when people get up on stage to lip sync and mock some of their favorite songs. "I liked seeing the people in their crazy costumes and funny make-up," Jessica Hughes ('07) said, remembering last years Airband.

One of the cool things about Airband is that it is the audience who gets to vote for who they want to win. It's not up to the staff or anyone else; it's up to the audience. So this way everyone can have fun, enjoy themselves and even get to participate a little. "I enjoyed myself and had some good laughs. I would definitely go to it again this year or maybe even do it myself," Leah Gerlach ('07) remarked.

Some people may go to be in the show and some people may go to watch the show, but in the end everyone is there watching and seeing the same thing and having fun. "It was fun and I had a great time. Seeing people make fools of themselves can put a smile on anyone's face. I can't wait to go this year," said Daniella Hill ('07).

B.O.T.B.

Rock showdown... Battle of the Bands

Music. Live Music. Not from a CD, DVD, or the internet... music from the talented students at our own school. The 2004 Battle of the Bands was a big hit thanks to the baseball team's efforts, talented musicians, and three awesome M.C.'s.

Five bands performed in Battle of the Bands bringing metal, punk, and a variety into one room. "Final Words", "Against the Grain", "The Don Quixote Affair", "Fallen Heroes", and Justin Hearn ruled the stage. They were introduced by three M.C.'s: Ashley Fournier ('04), Marco Fjordmark ('04), imported straight from Sweden and onto stage, as well as Tamara Lavati ('05), leading the way. "Being an MC was a blast, I loved getting the bands as well as the crowd energetic," said Tamara Lavati ('05).

The winners are voted by their fans in the crowd and won a prize of $100. "The Don Quixote Affair" won the crowd over with their instrumentals, voice, as well as bubbly personalities. "My favorite part of Battle of the Bands was when we first came out on stage. Our entrance was really cool! We threw balloons and candy all over the place! It was wild!" commented Dylan Shippey ('05). Dylan is a member of DQA along with Devin Wynn ('05), Jake Carufel ('04), Alex Bradshaw ('05), and Sean Carignan ('05). The boys are a favorite local band among their fans at Northern.

The Baseball Team sponsors the show and gives students as well as musicians a way to interact with each other within the walls of the school. "Battle of the Bands is important to me because it combines the two most important parts of my life- music and sports," said Mr. Dwyer, the Boys Baseball Coach. So, whether you went to support the Baseball Team or your favorite band, it was worth every amp, every shout to be heard over the bands, and every quarter to vote for your favorite. Music. Period.

-Tamara Lavati

Curtis Young ('05) of "Final Words" shows off his guitar talents during their set.

The crowd is put to silence in awe as they are intrigued by "Don Quixote's" set.

DQA! DQA! The crowd went crazy as Sean Carignan ('03) and the rest of the Don Quixote Affair stole the show. They took home $100.00 in prize money and hearts of hundreds of Northern girls.

Playing their best song, bassist Richie Bennett ('05) and guitarist B.J. Perry capture the crowds attention and hopefully their votes.

Jammin' solo is just how Justin Hearn ('05) likes it-. With talent and humor he dazzled the crowd.

With a rather surprised expression on his face, Dylan Shippey ('05) rocks out playing the drums for his band, "The Don Quixote Affair."

Spring Break

After getting out of the pool, Sarah Ruiz ('05), Amanda Pickering ('05), and Kim Grant ('05) dry off. They had a great Spring Break.

On a cruise in Nova Scotia, Jackie Sparling ('06), Dan Turnbull ('07), Chelsea Elliot ('07), Whitney Fontenot ('05), and Matt Turnbull ('05) smile brightly after a long day of singing karaoke.

Katie Baska and Rachel Allen, both from the class of 2006, take a break from their rigorous schedule of sunbathing to capture the moment with a photograph.

As they prepare to go snorkeling, Nate Labelle ('05), Andrew Bushor ('05), and Dave Labelle ('08) listen as the instructor explains the safety issues involved with the activity.

Hanging out together, best friends Amanda Pickering ('05) and Sarah Ruiz ('05) enjoy their time together. The girls spent a lot of their free time together.

While enjoying the beauty of the ocean, Laura Bartle ('07) and Katie Miller ('04) spend some time working on their tans. The girls really enjoyed their time at the St. Thomas Virgin Islands.

Sunburned and Sunkist. . .

It may be Florida, Mexico, or a place you're going just to get away from Michigan's cold April weather. And it's that break that all schools get, Spring Break, where everyone gets two weeks off to relax. "I went to St. Thomas Island. It was gorgeous and it was nice to just relax and get away from our daily school drama," said Steph Krause ('06).

On Spring Break, people go to places and capture moments and memories that they will always remember. Amanda Pickering ('05) stated, "I saw SHAMU! It's awesome because not a whole lot of people get to see a SHAMU."

On the two weeks of relaxation everyone is able to hangout with their friends, enjoy the moments of not getting up early, and they are able to sleep in for as long as they want. Everyone is able to hangout with friends and make memories that they'll remember forever. Courtney Schlitts ('06) said, "I went to Florida for Spring Break and I went Deep Sea Diving and Parasailing. It was a lot of fun!"

So, obviously, everyone finds something to do for Spring Break even if they don't go anywhere exciting. Everyone always seems to find something to do and has a great time. Spring Break is probably a lot of students best times in high school, two weeks of no school.

A night under the stars

Junior prom is perhaps the most anticipated event of Junior year. For most it is their first prom, complete with the stress of finding the perfect date and dress. Months of planning go into this one special night. Once you have that special someone to sweep you off your feet, the rest is just details.

The best part of prom may be the pre-prom rituals as Andrea Warsinski ('05) comments, "The best part was getting ready!" For the guys it's all about matching your tux to your date's dress, getting the perfect haircut and a gorgeous corsage for your gorgeous gal. For the ladies it's all about finding the most gorgeous dress in stores, then comes the impeccable up-do, the shoes and the jewelry. At the end of the day all of the preparation is definitely worth it! As Whitney Fontenot ('05) puts it, "The best part is getting dressed up and being treated like a princess."

Next it's on to dinner and dancing at the Thomas Edison Inn! Caroline Burmann ('06) shares her favorite prom memory, "When my boyfriend and I went out to dinner we got lost!" It's the little quirks that help make the night special. But most importantly it's spending time and hanging out with the people you love. "Just the night with cool people made it worth it," exclaimed Curtis Young ('05). Amanda Pickering ('05) who had the rare privilege of attending Junior and Senior Prom last year adds, "Being with my closest friends was memorable and something I'll never forget!"

-Cassey Stank

Smiling for a quick picture, Katie Juzysta ('05) and Drew Losinski ('05) take a break from all the excitement. Their smiles show that they had an amazing night together.

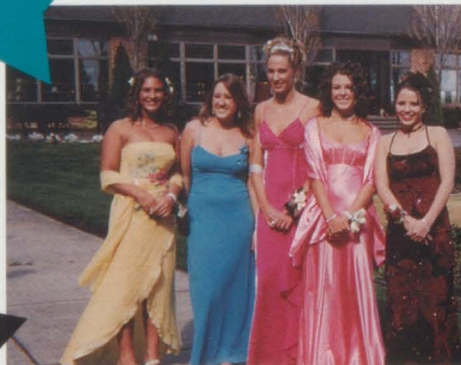

Standing two by two, a group of Junior Prom participants anticipate a fun-filled night with their friends! They all looked just stunning in their beautiful dresses and snazzy suits.

With ease, Kate Gossman ('05) pins a boutonniere on Nash Rosenmund ('06) before Junior Prom. Junior Prom night was filled with many pictures to capture each special moment.

Posing for a senior picture, Karley Hall ('05), Alyson Mayer ('05), Amanda Campbell ('05), Erin Bury ('05), and Whitney Fontenot ('05) await their entrance to the dance. The Thomas Edison Hall was filled with all the colors of the rainbow from the ladies' colorful attire.

Standing in front of the fireplace, Whitney Fontenot ('05) and Matt Turnbull ('05) pose for one of their many prom pictures. By the end of the night they both felt like celebrities!

As they enjoy their time together at Junior Prom, Kevin Knust ('05) and Christie Charron ('05) smile happily. Christie and Kevin showed their cheezy smiles as well as their snazzy style!

Senior Prom

In preparation for the most memorable evening of their high school years, Gary Gerlach ('04) gently places a beautiful corsage on Courtney Muir's ('04) wrist.

As they await the wonderful night to come, Amanda Morey ('06) and Justin Nalepa ('04) pause in their preparations to take a picture and preserve a memory.

This group of Seniors is hanging out at Jamie Hinske's ('04) house before their limo picks them up for Prom.

After many hours of preparation, this group of senior ladies pose for a picture to document this "Once in a Lifetime" opportunity.

After presenting her with the corsage, Craig Fenton and Britney Lindsay ('04) pose next to a tree in Britney's back yard. Both of them really enjoyed the time they spent together at Senior Prom.

Class of 2004

Excited about the night that is soon to come, Jamie Hinske ('04) and Rob Budgell stop to pose for a picture. They both had a memorable time at Senior Prom.

A Night to Remember. .

It's the most memorable night of your senior year, Prom! Senior Prom is when the entire senior class comes together to celebrate the biggest dance of their high school career. It's the one last dance where everyone gets to see all their classmates and friends before they graduate. Not only did seniors go, but some underclassman got to go as well. They danced for hours and had a great time at the big Prom. Amanda Pickering, ('05) said, "There was an awesome chocolate fountain!" Heather Fontenot ('07) also added, "The best part about it was the after party on Joe Pytleski's beach!"

To some people the best part could be the food, to others it was the dancing, or just the fact of being there with all their friends. No matter what, Senior Prom will still bring lasting memories to look back on.

Graduation

A new beginning. . .

Graduation. A time of laughter and a time of tears, a time of excitement and a time of fear, a time of anticipation and a time of apprehension, it is filled with mixed emotions and feelings. For some it is the end of something great and for others it is just the beginning of something even greater. Graduation is a time when one can venture out into the world, keeping what they learned in high school close, and exploring what the world has to offer them. "I've been to seven different schools since I started first grade, but now I can't imagine graduating with anyone else. Whatever path you chose in high school, I hope it was an awesome experience for you... and as fun as it was for me," were the touching words Eric Quinn ('04) said at his Senior Assembly speech last year. Graduation is the marked time of one's high school experience. "These last four years have brought more memories, good times, laughs and friendship than we all could ever have imagined. I have learned so much about life here that no classroom or textbook could ever teach. I hope that all of you are also able to make use of the life skills taught to us these last four years in all that you do in the future," reflected Jamie Hinske ('04). Graduation. A time when each individual is given the key to go out into the world and open the door that is calling their name.

- Tamara Lavati

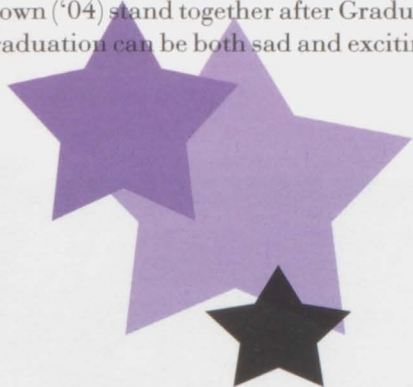

In an attempt to calm the butterflies in their stomachs, Britney Lindsay ('04) and Kyri Meyers ('04) pose for a picture before the Commencement ceremony begins.

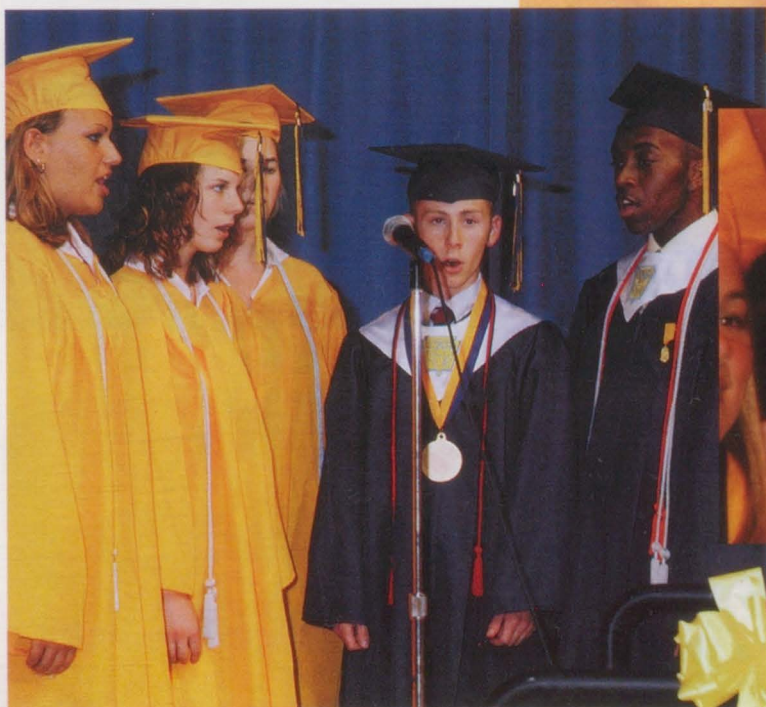

Hanging out at the "All Night Party", a group of friends smile after receiving various awards. Each of the students who went had an awesome time!

Best friends Tiffany Marzka ('04) and Rachel Brown ('04) stand together after Graduation. Graduation can be both sad and exciting.

A group of friends gather at the Thomas Edison Inn to celebrate their graduation. This was one of the last times this group of friends got together before going away to college.

Summer

Standing in front of the "Shelter" at St. Andrews Hall in Detroit, Aly Hicks ('05) and Tamara Lavati ('05) wait patiently to enter to see one of their favorite bands "Fall Out Boy". The Shelter has become one of the favorite concert venues for Northern students.

Riding the waves, Erin Bury ('05) and Steve Hall ('05) look up and look out to the Sydney Harbor in Austrailia while on a boat tour. Sydney was one of the cities on their itinerary, as well as a favorite among those who went.

Rock-n-Roll babes, Kate Gossman ('05) and Miranda Grumbles ('06) hang out at this summer's Warped Tour. It consisted of popular bands like Yellowcard and Underoath and was the hot summer hang out for Husky students

A group of Seniors bond during a girls night in. Hanging out and talking was a way to get through those hot summer nights.

Resting in the parking lot, Jessica Liva ('06), Blair Spear ('06), Jamie Soulliere ('05), and Ashley Castello ('06) take a break from rocking out. They were just a few of the many people at the Vans Warped Tour this summer.

The long days of Summer can't get any better as Heather Fontenot ('07) and Kelly Basner ('07) hang out on the docks with Diet Pepsi, Flip Flops, and fishing gear; these friends are set for a day of soaking up the sun.

Sunshine Days..

Summer vacation is a time to relax, a time to grab a beach towel and hit the waves. It is also a time for...travel. This summer's highlights were trips to Australia, taken by many Northern students. Australia's land is as diverse as its culture. From the stereotypical blonde haired boys to those stunning accents, from sheilas to mates, as well as wallabies in the wild to Australia's Wallaby Rugby Team.

Mr. Labelle took a group of 25 students from June 28th to July 15. "The last place on earth" may very well be the best place on earth as well. "As much as I love France and Europe, I loved Australia even more. The weather is great, the people are welcoming, and the food is great. Sydney and Cairns were my favorite cities," commented Mr. Labelle. From kangaroos to koalas to Sydney Harbor and beyond the students enjoyed every moment. "My favorite part about Australia was touring the Opera House; we saw a show there that night as well, and it is one of the most beautiful structures as well as one of the most beautiful places in the world," said Cassey Stank ('06). The students will never forget their experiences, "Australia was the most fun I ever had and I gained a new family in the 18 days 'down under'," Andrew Bushor ('05) said with a smile.

Another student went to Australia, but outside the world of Northern. Tamara Lavati went to Australia, as a student Ambassador through "People to People" for 21 days. She went with 35 kids from Michigan and Missouri as well as 4 'lucky' leaders "Australia is an amazing place.... I would love to go again. It is so beautiful, and every city is unique in it's own way."

Whether Australia was explored as a school trip or through another organization it was well worth a trip halfway across the world. Going to Australia gave students a look outside their everyday "world" and allowed them to have a once in a lifetime experience while still in high school. Go Aussies!

The young faces shown in these pictures represent times when our biggest worries were Barbie's and Ken's wedding, GI Joe's missing arm, and why we had to eat our vegetables at dinner—again. Looking at these pictures today, sometimes we wish we could go back to such carefree days. But at the same time moving on with our lives, making new memories, and gaining independence have become exciting realities that were once ideas that seemed so far away. Since 7th grade, we have counted down the days until graduation. Now, as the day approaches, we are still anxious, but somewhat nervous. The faces in these pictures remind us of the people we once were and still are. The friends we have grown up with, and also with whom we will graduate. Surviving these past 12 years wasn't always easy, but in that time we had some of the best experiences of our lives. Those times are what made it worth while.

Good Luck Class of 2005!

You Might Attend Northern If...

- You still have to go to school when there is two and a half feet of snow on the ground.
- The halls are so crowded you get pushed so far that you start walking backwards.
- Painting a rock has become one of your favorite hobbies.
- There is a television in every classroom and it only gets used for 30 seconds each day.
- Chicken nuggets and fries with cheese are “healthy” food items.
- “Devil” is not something in the Bible, but the best noon-hour supervisor.
- The Performing Arts Center is bigger than the school in its entirety.
- Other schools refer to yours as a “prison” with guards and gates.
- It takes you 20 minutes just to exit the parking lot.
- There 2 teachers that are brilliant enough to have PhD’s yet are referred to by a one syllable last name.
- You do not realize that the Media Center also checks out books.
- You mimic “Frogger” when looking for a gap in the hall in order to get to your next class.
- You think toilet paper is a luxury item in the bathroom that you have to request.
- The fastest runners in the school are not the track or the football players, but are those headed for Bosco Sticks.

- A manic athlete waving a large stuffed bone can inspire students to stand up and yell.
 - “Who let the dogs out” brings out running athletes rather than pooches.
 - Squirrels cause more out of school days in the winter than the regular snow fall.
 - The heat does not come on until after winter is over and it is 80 degrees outside.
 - You complain about being in school but you keep yourself beyond 2:15 to socialize.
 - A fence is not used to keep people out but, instead, is used as a slate to sign your name.
 - The names Wojtas, Mosset, Wagner, and Philpot make you look both ways.
 - Some of the teachers move room to room just as often as their students.
 - Someone calls you a “dog” and it is not offensive to you.
 - Your locker is a “foreign object” or is in another world- you never use it or it is too far away.
 - It is hard to decipher when a football game is a home game or an away game because technically every game is “away”.
 - Floats do not cover the football field during homecoming, but instead “walls” cover the floor during Mardi Gras.
 - You see an entire class wearing pink bubble gum class shirts. Good Luck Class of '05!
 - Your school is now over the hill. HAPPY 40th NORTHERN!

"Leaving a Lasting Impression"

Talking to a friend at his lunch table, Roger Paul ('07) laughs at a joke. The lunchroom is a place where students take a break from the busy school day and grab a bite.

Know Pain! Know Gain!

Falling and scraping your knee or any other part of your body is most likely to happen to you if you are skateboarding or learning how to skateboard. "There is no real amount of time in which people learn how to skateboard, because you learn a lot of things along the way," says Corey Smith ('06).

Those who skateboard know the kick flip is one of the most popular tricks. There is also the front side flip or the Ollie. "I like the front side flip because it is so easy," said Joshua Carmichael ('07). There are many other tricks as well, but these two are the most well known.

One of the most painful experiences was done by Corey Smith ('06). "I held on to the back of my friend's car... let's say that pavement doesn't taste too well mixed with blood," stated Corey Smith ('06). Another experience was done by Jennifer Summerer ('06). "It was my first time and last time to skate. I started and I hit a rock on my way. I just fell forward," Jennifer said. Even though the skateboarders receive cuts, scrapes and fractures they still continue to skateboard.

But for others who don't like skateboarding or just don't know how to skateboard, there is the all time favorite, inline skating! "At first it was kind of hard to learn, but once you get it, it's a lot of fun!" states Joshua Block ('05).

"I hate the safety gear that you have to wear when you skate to make parents happy," says Angela Bailey ('07). Many students agree that safety gear is the worst possible thing that you can be seen wearing. For parents, safety gear relieves them from the stress that comes from worrying about their son or daughter's safety.

What is that heavenly sound that's playing? It's music! Almost everyone enjoys music, it just depends on what type. "I like to listen to a little bit of everything, so then no matter what mood I'm in I can listen to something I like," remarked Stacey Bennett ('07).

But the question isn't what type of music people like, but should people be allowed to listen to the music in class? Sitting in class, doing your work, and listening to your CD player, yeah right! Most of the teachers in the school do not approve of them. "We should be able to listen to our CD players because some people work better when listening to music. It stops the distractions of other students," stated Chris Bedford ('05).

Game Time

School spirit at Northern is a very big issue. During Spirit Week classes battle for the chance to win most school spirit. Some people will go to the extreme when dressing up for Spirit Week. Teachers usually will dress up for the chance to be able to get out of their normal work clothes. The biggest day for school spirit is the PH vs. PHN football game. At the end of Spirit Week a games assembly is held. Looking on to the future, hopefully the tradition for wanting to "show your spirit" will live on.

-Mike Smith

"My favorite thing about Northern is seeing my friends. My favorite subject would have to be Physics because I always learn something interesting."

-Andy Sparling ('06)

"I have made a lot of new friends. It's cool how they mix the grades up in the class."

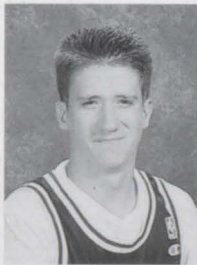

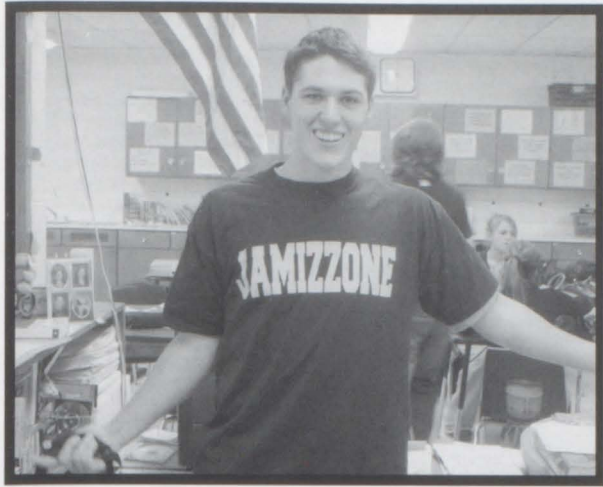

-Dalton Carlisle ('08)

"I like being able to spend time with my friends at school."

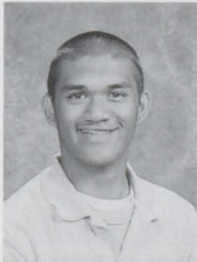

-Zack Hill ('06)

"Northern sounds better then it seems. The best thing about attending Northern High School is to be ignited and to be in Dr.J's class."

Running The Show

Being at the top of the chain for two years now, Mrs. Wojtas has been the principal. She has changed our school in many ways. We now have the option of using our cell phones at school. "She's a great leader and a wonderful woman to be around," said Karla Gudino ('07). The administrators patrol the halls and keep us safe from unexpected experiences. If we didn't have them we would have total chaos.

Missing Spots

Getting to school in the morning is always a hassle while the Performing Arts Center is still under construction. The student parking is still congested. "It's always congested and the kids are impatient. They drive like they are late," exclaimed Lauren Kleiber ('05). With all the teachers that park in the back and all the students, it's really hard to find a spot if you arrive late or have first hour release. Even with only the juniors and seniors out in the parking lot, it makes one heck of a mess in the winter time. When the Performing Arts Center is done, the parking lot will get back to how it used to be. There will be a lot more available spots for students to park.

Body Art

Every now and then you will see a person with a piercing or a tattoo. Unique tattoos or piercings are hard to find. Most people see tattoos and piercings as a form of self-expression. Finding a person with a unique tattoo or piercing is also hard to find. When you see a person with an obscene piercing most people would think, "what was he thinking," but there are always the people who will really like how they look. "It's all about the pain. The ink and jewelry are just souvenirs," stated Chris Bedford ('05). The pain of a needle going into your body about a 1,000 times a minute doesn't seem too thrilling. Most people said that the tattooing process doesn't even hurt and there is really nothing to be afraid of.

Rotten Yet?

From classrooms to the lunchroom, pop can be seen almost anywhere you go. Is the pop you drink good for you? Many people don't care but some people will just stay away from it. Eric Nardiello ('06) exclaimed, "I used to drink it, but I realized it was bad for me so I stopped for a while and now I hate it." If you're a massive pop drinker what do you think your dentist would say... "Sip all day and get decay." If you're a pop addict and you need help just put your pop down and step away from it. "It's a very addictive substance and it is very expensive," said Robert Radiger ('06). If you or someone you know has a problem seek some help from your local drinking fountain!

The First Years

We welcome Mrs. Ketchman, the new Choir teacher. She is a young and enthusiastic woman and a very sensitive and caring teacher.

Being a first year staff member is just like being a freshman. They're new to the school and they don't know anyone except their colleagues. So they look down the hall and see all the new faces. When people are new to the teacher world you sometimes get kind of nervous or excited. Sometimes when teachers push students to learn they will sometimes go with it, but some will just slack off and procrastinate. If you have ever given a speech in front of your peers you will get kind of nervous. Think how a teacher must feel when it's their first day. Students look up to teachers as role models. Teachers try their hardest to make sure their students learn everything they can before they graduate. After the teacher buy-out last year some new teachers were able join the Northern staff.

Academics

Ever wonder why some classes are so hard for you to understand? Or why some people can catch on to playing musical instruments more quickly? But when it comes to science... just forget it. Maybe it is not that they are "gifted," maybe they just have a different intellect than you.

There are three basic learning styles or "intellects":

- visual learner
- auditory learner
- kinesthetic learner

Are you a visual learner?

Are you good at visualizing in great detail?

Do you learn better from graphs, charts, etc.?

Do you notice yourself paying attention to body language?

Well, then you might just be a visual learner. These are all signs of visual processing. People who learn better visually actually store and translate information into pictures in their brain and are often thought to have a photogenic memory.

Are you an auditory learner?

Do you remember accurate details from just a lecture or conversation?

Do you have an extensive vocabulary?

Do you have good communication skills, being able to clearly convey your opinion?

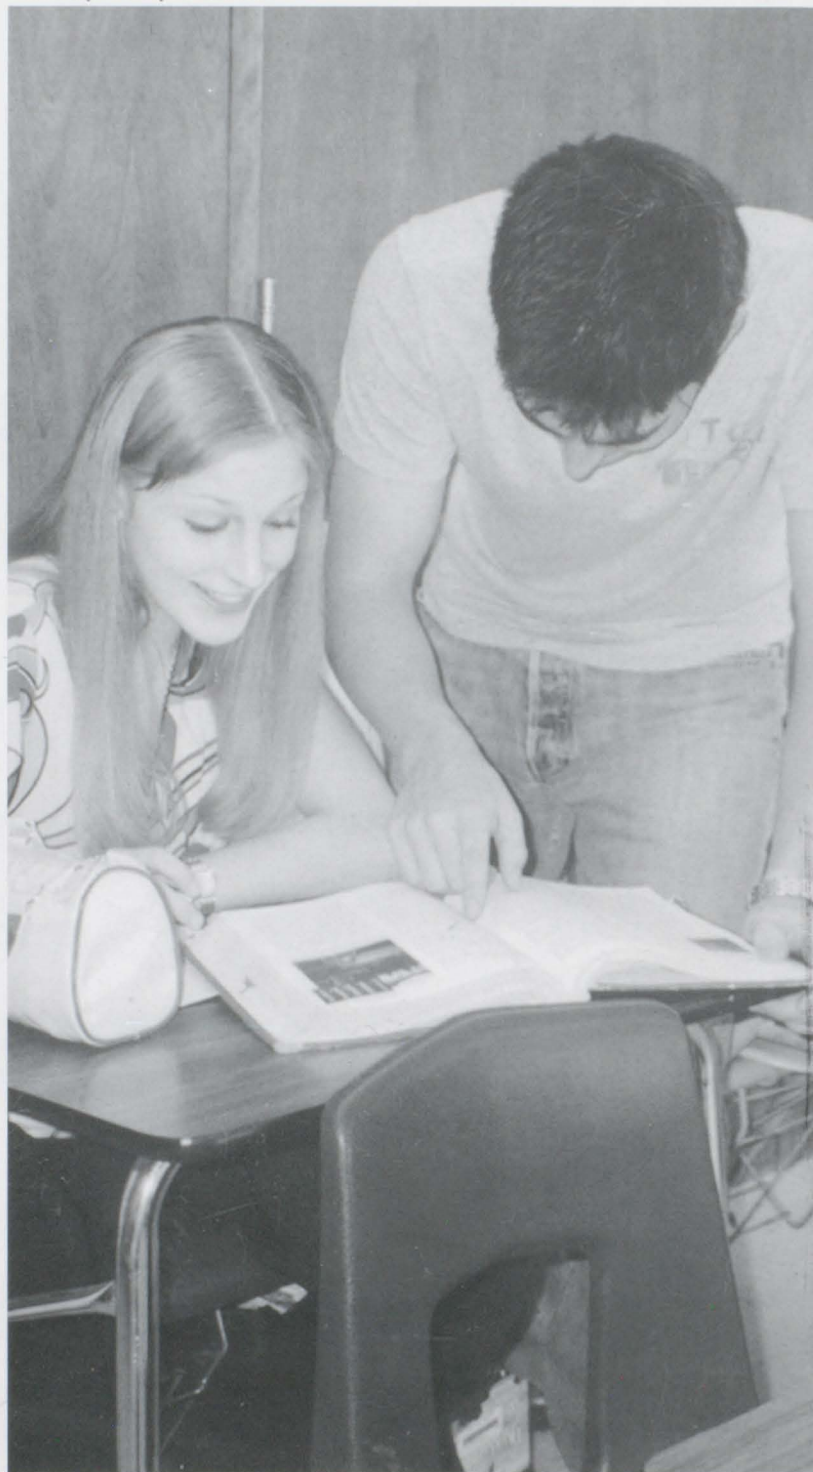

Auditory learners actually filter information they hear and store it, but not as a picture. They tend to be good at following directions and would most likely excel in classes that teachers like to lecture in.

Are you a kinesthetic learner?

Are you unable to sit still when you are concentrating?

Learning

One way of learning is by teaching. As both Brandon Wilton ('06) and Michelle Vandergriff ('08) know; after school tutoring can be helpful to both the tutor and the student.

to Learn

One of the amazing things about Mrs. Leon is her teaching ability. To teach new Spanish words she let her students act out a story. Ryan Baier ('07) proudly plays the part of "Sexy Lexy."

The most common way to learn is to read, read, read, as Natasha Mireles ('06) is demonstrating. Look carefully behind her, we believe this student may be attempting osmosis.

Above: Independence is the main draw to Art Class. As Dylan Shippey ('05) and his friends know Art is a place to turn simple lead and simple paper into simply "the shiznit."

One of the cooler ways to learn is through movies. Jessica Liverance ('05) and Cassey Gantert ('06) play clips from "A Comedy of Errors" originally a play by Shakespeare, one of their favorites. For Mr. Dwyer's Shakespeare Course, they had to tease the class with a clip of a play not yet covered in class.

Do many consider you hyperactive?

Are you the athletic type? Kinesthetic learners often have trouble being still because moving actually helps the "juices to flow," since they tend to be considered the "hands on" learners.

Since our multiple intellects distinguish how we learn; it's obvious that there must be teaching styles as well.

While there are three different learning styles there are four different teaching styles:

- Formal Authority
- Facilitator
- Demonstrator
- Delegator

Formal authority teachers focus more on the content of the course and are generally teacher-centered. In which they feel responsible and must be in control of everything.

Facilitator model teaching styles focus more on activities. Instead of being more teacher-centered, they focus more on the students, in which students have much more responsibility.

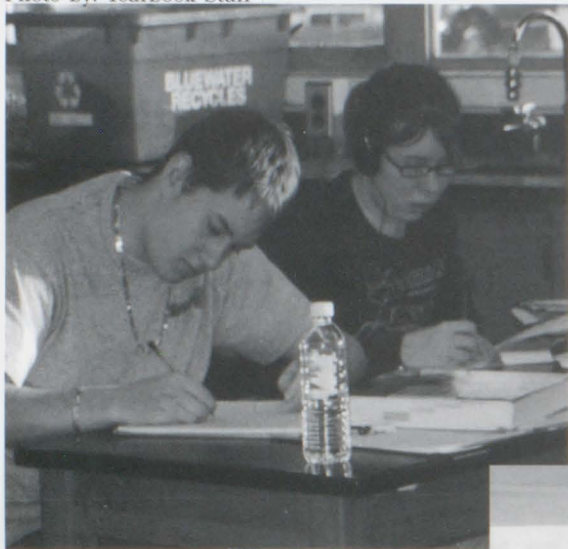

The demonstrator teaching style encourages students to participate in the class. They are also good at incorporating the different learning styles of students.

And the delegating teaching style is more of a student-led teaching. Students often are able to decide what kind of projects they want to do as long as the students are able to maintain focus.

Fighting the urge to run out of class screaming, these American Government students focus hard on their work.

"Fun"damentals

"I" before "E" except after "C." Two plus two equals four. DNA is the blue-print of life itself. Pearl Harbor happened on December 7, 1941. Core classes are major parts of students' lives whether they want them to be or not. English, Math, Science, and Social Studies determine whether students get to graduate and walk with their class in the spring.

The student body cannot decide upon their major classes. Many students think they should be able to choose their major classes according to what profession they would like to go into. "I think it is stupid that so much emphasis is put on our core classes and not so much on extra curricular courses, such as the arts. You should be able to pick the classes most suited for your future career, even if it isn't something like a biologist. Requiring us to take classes we will never apply in our future limits individuality and stunts personal and mental development," Nate Rutkofske ('07) and Natalie Carbarby ('07) established.

Along with being able to choose their core classes, many students feel that you should not have to pass the class to graduate. "I think that it is not fair for the kids that are not good at math or history. More kids would graduate if the rule changed," Adkin Sherwood ('05) commented.

Yet core classes are not always the shadows that follow a student, some enjoy the classes. "I enjoy reading and writing. That is basically what literature class is. I do my best. I do very well, yet I don't really like math. I guess that is why I do badly in it. I can't keep my attention long enough to concentrate," Stacey Bennett ('07) stated. All it takes is a little concentration and devotion and almost anyone can get a passing grade.

Future outlio

During your junior year students are given a chance to go to TEC. TEC is another building where students come together and are taught different things regarding what they want to do when they get older. "I am in Health Careers. I chose to take this class because I am interested in being a Veterinarian Technician," stated Kim Bowen ('06).

Drafting is also something students can choose to take. Drafting is basically a class where students learn how to draw blueprints and lay-outs of buildings. A lot of the students that have drafting class say it is fun. Brandon Thomas ('06) tells us, "Drafting is lots of fun and we get to fool around some. I do learn a lot from it though, and I do enjoy the class very much."

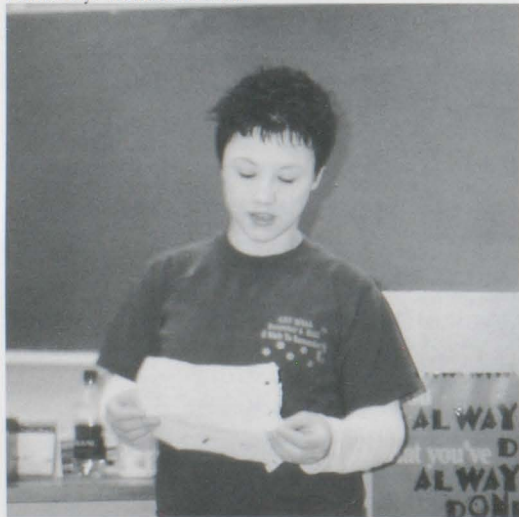

You have a lot of choices when you go to TEC. Students can assemble cars, build houses, learn to cook and even go into medicine. Becoming a nurse is very popular with the girls here at Northern. "I wanted to be in TEC because I wanted to help people. Sometimes it is fun when we do group work," Kayla Bilyeu ('06) said. It's not all fun and games though, students have to work too. Kellie Janiszewski ('06) exclaimed, "There's a lot of homework and tests, but it all pays off when we go to the hospital for hands on work."

So whether students want to further their career at the TEC Center or go into drafting Northern has both options open and are willing to fulfill what students want to do.

"Playing drunk is fun," declares Corey Day ('08) as he rides a bicycle with drunk goggles on. The point of Mr. Farnsworth's Health class experiment is to prove how drinking impairs your vision, not necessarily how much fun it is.

More Than Meets The Eye

When people think of school they tend to remember only the core subjects like Math, Science, English, and History. There are also classes like French, Spanish, German, Japanese, Sign Language, Art, Shakespeare, Mythology, and Psychology. These “non-core” classes seem to be a lot of fun!

Why are these classes so exhilarating you ask? Well, the answer for some is: the teachers. “Dwyer is exceptionally good at teaching Shakespeare, but better at acting it out,” Cody Reynolds ('05) explained. Caitlin Rashid ('05) expressed, “Mr. LaBelle’s class was fun, but I think Mr. Arena needs some credit too!” The old saying “the teacher makes the class” stands true.

For other students, projects help keep their interest. Andrew Olson ('05) stated, “I enjoyed the projects! I wish Shakespeare was all year.” Teachers try to “kick it up a notch” by adding creative projects into the mix. Every student learns best in different ways. Projects are best for students who like “hands on” activities.

Classes can also be inspiring for some students. “This class has pushed me to aspire to be what I want to be someday,” reflected Chloe Patterson ('05). The wide range of “non-core” classes many times help students narrow down what they want to do for the rest of their life.

Most teachers seem to agree that their favorite aspect about teaching is seeing their students using what they have learned. “My favorite thing about sign language is when I see kids actually using what they have learned,” exclaimed Mrs. Lingenfelter. Mr. LaBelle commented, “My favorite aspect about teaching French is having good students and seeing them being able to use the language.”

So, “non-core” classes are entertaining because of the teachers, the creative projects, and the way each class inspires its students. Remember, “there is a lot more to school than what meets the eye!”

Minds In

So many classes exist where students have to sit and be lectured for the hour and then take a test over the material a week later. There are the classes like gym, weights, and sports theories, where students get to have some fun and exercise their mind.

As a student at Northern, you are required to take a year of physical education to graduate. Most kids just figure they'll take general gym and get it over with. Now there are lots of options other than general gym. There is co-ed gym, weight classes, and theory classes such as basketball, volleyball, wrestling, and baseball/ softball theories.

Motion

There are things you can do such as play four seasons of a sport to waive a half a year of physical education. So if you play football all four years of high school and take football theory- you are set. Some people choose to take a full year of gym freshman year then take a theory later on. "Being able to have fun and get in shape rocks," said Shannon Wheeler ('05).

During your four years here, you have to take a lot of classes where you have to take notes and listen a lot, but now you can exercise your mind.

Your Guide to Surviving HIGH SCHOOL

Alarm Clocks

A good annoying sound to wake us up in the morning!

"Alarm Clocks are the voice of Satan because they abduct us back into reality," expressed Jeremy Paldanius ('07).

Bosco sticks

Every Wednesday the Bosco sticks tend to be the rave of the lunch line.

"My favorite part of Bosco Sticks is sucking out the cheese," said Sam Denomy ('07).

Car... or just any kind of transportation, whether bus or bike, anything just to get you to school.

"I don't need a car because I have a bike & my legs," said Casey Schlager ('05).

Detentions

"I think it would be scary to be in detention because my mommy would ground me," expressed Jon Evans ('05).

Exams

You HAVE to take them.... unless of course you're a senior and did well on MEAPs. "Exams are really hard, but once they're done, it's a big relief," commented Brandy Carl ('06).

Friends

During the stressful times of school we all need a good friend!

Gym, the one class where it is permissible to be nasty and sweaty.

"Gym class is tough and it stinks unless you have a lot of friends in your class," explained Abigail Serafin ('08).

Hall passes

Every once in a while we need to just leave the class. Hall passes are the best alternative to just walking out. "Hall passes are needed, but they are way too strict at lunch," said Arrine Bushor ('08).

Internet

After a day of school most enjoy signing on and just IMing their friends and venting. "It's nice to have the internet especially if you don't have it at home," stated Megan Cain ('07).

Jam Study Sessions

Not many of us are smart enough to study days before the test, so most students use their breaks to cram all the information they need to know for the test. "I think that jamming right before is better because your short term memory kicks in," expressed Caitlin Kemp ('07).

Kleenex

Long Term Projects

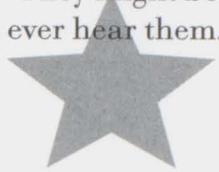

The big project that you never seem to have the time or the patience to do.

Morning announcements

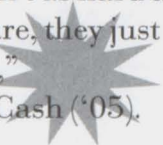

To fulfill all of your school event needs. "They might be interesting if I could ever hear them," said Rebecca Spranger ('08).

News Points

The most important assignment in all POD classes. "Newspoints aren't as hard as people say they are, they just take a little time," explained Gary Cash ('05).

Office

The place every student dreads, but every student ends up there at least once in their high school career. "Going to see Mr. Mossett is not fun," stated Andy Zondlak ('06).

Pencils

Whenever there is a test, pencils really come in handy! "You have all kinds of them when you don't need them and when you do they are all broken," commented Justin Hearn ('05).

Quizzes

Whether they are pop or a scheduled quiz, most of the time they cause many students to fret.

pop quizzes

Rock

The item that has become the other school mascot: the rock. It is an important symbol to northern students. "It doesn't stop us from doing any other kind of graffiti though," explained Jeremy Patchett ('06).

Snow days

A very special occasion that many northern students have never experienced. "Snow days are sweet! It's too bad we don't have any," expressed Austin Zawicki ('08).

Time

The thing most students seem to never have enough of. "There's never enough time to get everything done," stated Alicia Zimmer ('05).

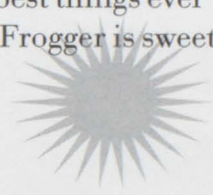

Unexcused absence

The thing that can hurt students as much as a bad test grade. "They should be counted as excused absences. I think it shouldn't matter," said Matt Wager ('06).

Video Games

This great stress reliever is favored by many students. "Video games are the best things ever invented. I play them everyday. Frogger is sweet!" expressed Sean Tynen ('08).

Walking

Although it may be tiring, walking is an unavoidable thing when attending high school. "Walking would be easier if we had traffic lights in the hallways," said Chloe Patterson ('05).

Extremely crowded hallways

... Make walking from class to class hard, but it is part of the high school experience.

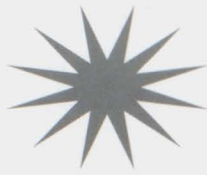

Earning for Learning

To survive high school, one of the most important things to have is a brain that wants to learn. "Unless you have a desire to achieve, you'll never get anywhere," commented Grace Ruch ('05).

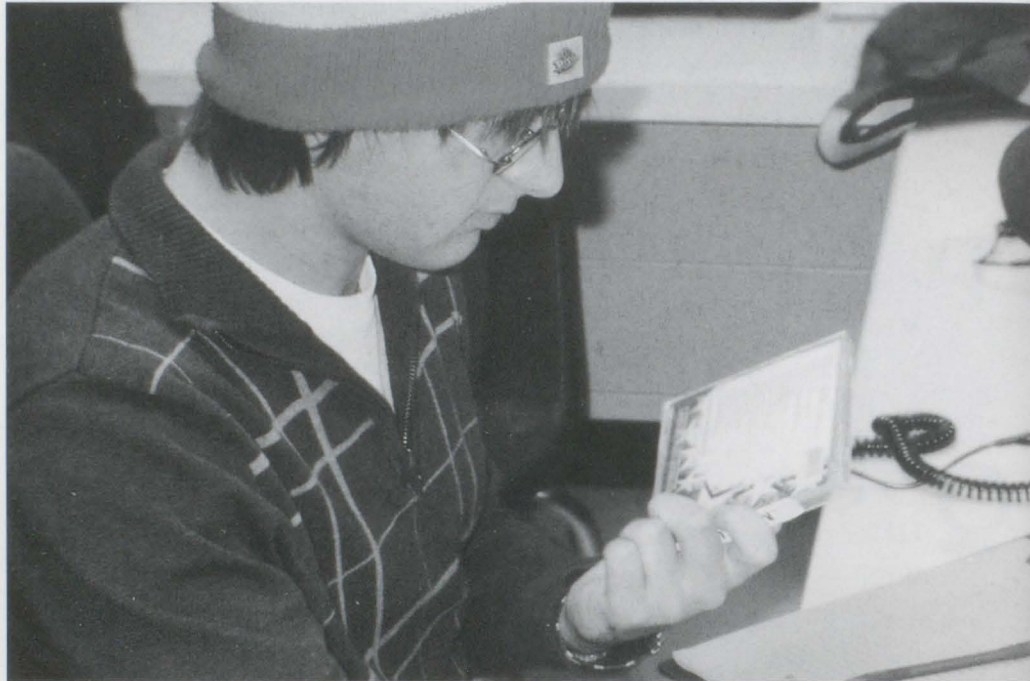

Zzzz

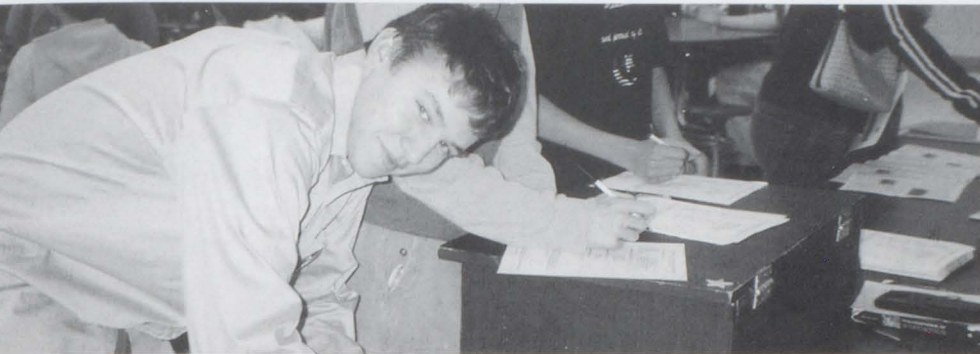

Sleep is extremely important in order to get good grades on your tests. "If I do my work, why does it matter if I sleep in class or not?" asked Nathan Rutkofske ('07).

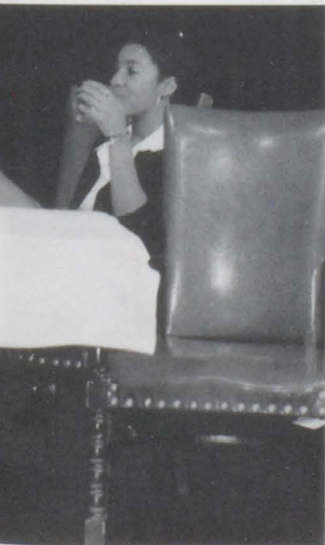

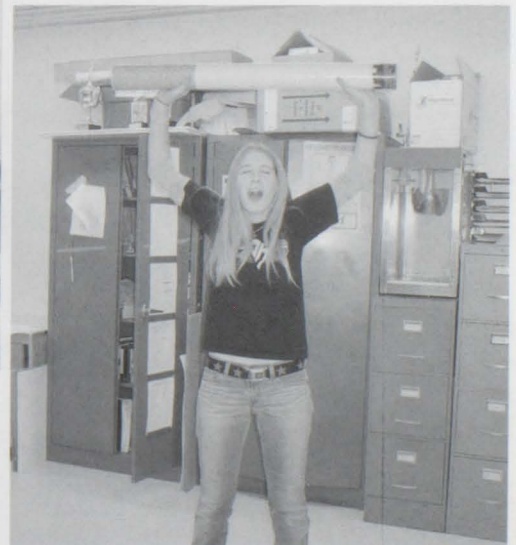

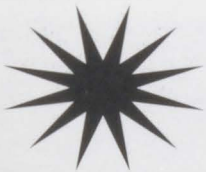

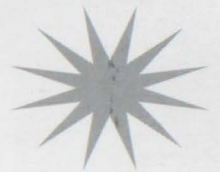

Activities

There is no development physically or intellectually without effort, and effort means work."

Women's Vocal Theory Simply Breathtaking

Taking a breath the women of Women's Vocal Theory look out at their audience. Although this is a diverse group of talented Northern women a majority of the class is from the class of 2007.

Keeping her focus, Marie Rutkofske ('07) puts her voice into the choir at the Winter Candlelight Concert held at Hillside Wesleyan Church. Many choir students raised money in fundraisers to help rent out this special place for this special occasion.

Shutting her eyes to keep the dust out, Danielle May ('07) goes down on home plate to make the tag before Eisenhower's runner can be called safe. Danielle's tremendous work efforts earned her the team MVP award.

Making a quick catch, Allison Cole ('04) keeps her head up to see the reaction of the batter. Despite starting the season with a torn ACL, Allison helped the Huskies.

Sisters

Throw like a girl?

"I run like a girl, play like a girl, and I throw like a girl, and I kick butt" states Amanda Pickering ('05).

Then why is "You throw like a girl" an insult? According to Katie Baska ('06), it means, "You don't throw the ball hard enough, or the right way, but I do, and I'm a girl."

Back in the day, it was unusual to see women playing ball, however, it was normal for the boys. Most boys start playing sports at a young age and are involved in Little League. Today, that's changed, girls are very dedicated and work hard playing softball and baseball. Girls who work their hardest can change the saying "You throw like a girl". The saying "You throw like a girl" is thrown out the window today because both sexes work just as hard as the other to be where they are today. Therefore the saying "You throw like a girl" is no longer valid.

Over all, the saying "You throw like a girl," will never be forgotten. So if both sexes work just as hard as the other then everyone "Throws like a girl."

She walks up to home plate, swinging her bat carelessly. She eyes the pitcher with intensity as she gets into her stance. The pitcher lets go of the ball and the Lady Huskies get another hit!

The Lady Huskies weren't only members of a team, but members of a family. Working so well together is what helped these ladies have such a great year! The girl's Varsity team had 14 wins and 10 losses. Along with it being such a fun year, the team also had 115 RBI's and 193 hits. "Besides the abundance of talent that's on our team, one of the greatest assets is how well we all work together," states Katrina Naz ('06).

"From the get go we were close, but in the end we became even closer," Jacki Corsetti ('05) said. You can tell this was a close-knit team with a season record of 12-16. The girls came out of the season with 154 hits and 128 RBI's. With hope for the years to come Leah Gerlach ('07) adds about her experience, "My first year in high school was great and what made it better was the softball team. I made a lot of new friends and had a lot of fun!"

Husky Pride

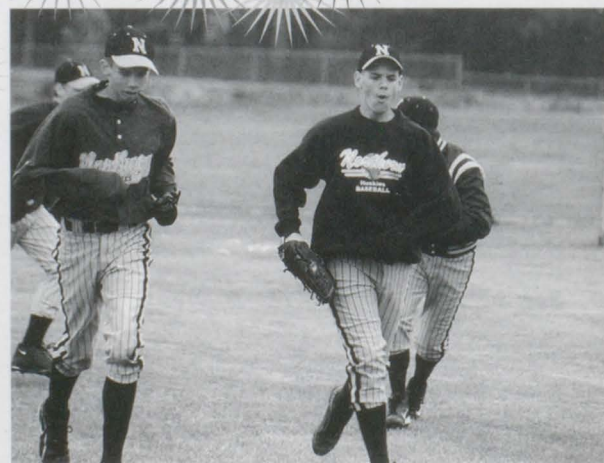

Returning a team of deep postseason experience, the Huskies returned with a District and Regional championship under their belts. Eight returning senior lettermen, 4 have been playing since their sophomore year, got the ball rolling on another terrific season. The Huskies had an extremely well developed and experienced starting lineup. With all this talent and experience, the Huskies either set or either or tied 14 school records. "We have a very strong team this year. There is a lot of depth in every position on the field," said pitcher Matt Borntrager ('05).

A very talented group of 13 juniors would also aid the seniors on their quest for a state title. A handful of these juniors spent some time on the JV team to help the guys have a great season. "I like playing JV as well because I get more at-bats and more time on the field. It makes it a lot more fun knowing that I will always be in the lineup," said Travis Branch ('05).

With such a talented group of players, the Huskies strove to accept nothing less than the previous year's accomplishments. Having won the most games in the school's history, this squad will always be remembered as one of the best, despite losing in the Regional finals. "Winning a state championship in my last year of high school baseball would have been something that I would always remember," said Eric Quinn ('04). Setting school records, winning more games than any other Husky baseball team, a district championship, and a second consecutive trip to the regional finals would satisfy most athletic programs, but not the "Diamond Dogs".

To some people golf may be considered boring and a waste of time, but to Northern's golf teams it is about the dedication, challenge and the freindships that you make. "This is my first year playing and so far I'm really enjoying it. The group of girls that played were always fun to be around and were willing to lend a helping hand," said Lynsey Crawford ('06). It will also be something they will remember for years to come. Ashley Hinton ('04) stated, "Golf has been a big part of my life, especially throughout high school and has made many lasting memories."

In any sport there are the challenges of the game, and that's what makes it exciting. "Even though golf is considered a team sport, you are still out on the course by yourself. It is such a head game and it gets frustrating. The personal challenge is the best part," remarked Jacob Stremers ('05).

As the crowd watches expectantly Amanda Robinson ('06) hurdles toward the finish line. Amanda was competing in the Regional competition in Marysville.

"I am very upset, because when I got my best time, I thought I broke the record, but since the times on the board were never updated, I didn't break it" stated Amanda Robinson (06').

Blood, sweat, and tears are not the only things that make up the track program. "I've been in track since my freshman year. The coaches, in my opinion, are what make everything fun. Track isn't always work and sweat, but a lot of fun too," commented Heather Brown ('05).

This year was excellent, because three people went to states! Trevell Brown ('04), Sam Cuppen ('04), and Casey Robinson ('05) all went to State competition and competed very well. Trevell ran the 400 meter and placed 11th. Sam competed in shot put and won 3rd place. Casey Robinson broke a record at the McDonald's Meet of Champions for the 100-meter. The record was set at 10.7 seconds and Casey passed by that with 10.51 seconds. He placed 6th at states.

Track is an awesome sport to be involved in. It helps you make friendships that will last a lifetime, keeps you in shape, and prepares you for the future!

One of the most talented runners at Northern is Casey Robinson. With blazing speed, Casey placed 6th in the state even though he had a broken jaw. "The most memorable moment of my track career was the McDonalds Meet of Champions when I ran a 10.5," Casey stated. With a time like that, Casey became one of the fastest runners in the state. "It was a great feeling," Casey said. Casey loves running track and said "Hopefully it will help me get into college."

Cross Country and Equestrian Teams. Have you even heard of these sports? The Equestrian team is horse riding. The Equestrian team is very important to some students. "To me, being on the equestrian team means I get to support my school doing something I love to do," said Courtney Ritchey ('07).

Cross Country is also an exciting sport. "My favorite thing about cross-country this year is how many different people came together to form a team," said Kate Coury ('06). There are many different reasons to run Cross Country. "Once you run through the finish line it's an amazing feeling," said Andrew Gaul ('08). Although they may not be the most well known sports, many students still enjoy them.

Kick it

"Soccer is training, dedication, stamina, exhilaration and life," expressed Joan Patrick ('07) of the JV team. It is not exactly a perfect record that makes the season fun and amusing. Precision and participation of the whole team ensures a positive experience. This year the girls had a lot of talent and familiarity. Mandy Campbell ('05) on Varsity stated, "We struggled through most of the season, but our hard work paid off when we made it to the districts finals." So, it does take the entire team to win in the end!

Going for the goal, Chris Enders ('05) puts his mighty foot to work against cross-town rivals, PHHS. Enders was a scoring powerhouse, breaking the record of most goals scored in one season. Chris stated, "Breaking the record was more of a team achievement than anything, although it felt amazing to have broke it in my last home game."

"Northern soccer is a great team effort that constitutes some of the best times in my high school career," expressed Andrew Mullally ('05), senior on the Boys Varsity soccer team. Along with him, many players from Varsity or JV can say the same. Although different records, the common theme is... "It takes a team to win, not just a single player," said Chris Lahar ('08). RED DawGS

The PHN/PHHS Swim Team finished the season with third place in the MAC gold division. It has been a tremendous achievement, given the obstacles the team has faced. The team was only able to practice in a pool under regulation size, with no starting blocks and limited availability. "One of the worst parts about the swim team was trying to fit 26 girls in a 20 meter pool," stated Randi Bradley ('08).

Rigorous practices were scheduled nightly from 8-10. Along with practice five days a week, every girl on the team was expected to have a grade point average of a C or higher. Christina Zinkel ('07) remarked "The swim team was well worth the two hours of sleep I got each night."

This team has given great heart and dedication to overcome these obstacles. A lot of the girls would say it was the great coaching of Mr. Jacobs, a.k.a. Mr. Ed, that brought them their victories. "Mr. Ed was our hero. He kept us sane," stated Amber Locke (08).

Posing for a quick picture, the Varsity Boy's Tennis Team takes a break at the State Championship tournament in Midland. The boys ended up finishing in 7th place

Tennis is a sport that requires years of concentration. Take Greg Johnson ('05) for example; he has been playing tennis since he was 3 years old. "I basically got into the game because my dad played," said Greg. During his Junior Year, he played number 2 doubles with Chris Enders. Karley Hall and Jenny Moulds are also very experienced players. "Karley and I have been playing since elementary school," commented Jenny.

Steve Hall ('05) stated, "I began playing tennis during freshman year and I wore nothing but K-Swiss shoes. I can thank Karley Hall for getting me into it." Tennis isn't just about the shoes you wear, but also how you play the game.

Some take up tennis just during the season while others play all the time. Rob McDougal ('06) said, "I pretty much play tennis all year around, anywhere from 3 to 4 days a week." The more practice one gets, the better player they become.

It takes a lot of devotion and dedication in order to be a superb tennis player, but most of all it takes practice. You don't have to wear K-Swiss Tennis Shoes or have played tennis since you were 3, you just have to do the best you can.

With his eye on the tennis ball, Greg Johnson ('05) bangs his serve in the service box! Greg teamed with Chris Enders ('05) for #2 Doubles on the Varsity Team.

With ease, Matt Bartle ('05) moves up the tennis ball on the scoreboard showing that he won the first game. Matt played #1 Doubles with Joe Nakleh ('05) on Varsity.

With intense concentration, Jenny Moulds ('05) uses her powerful backhand to her advantage. Jenny played #2 Doubles on the Varsity Team with Karley Hall ('05).

Stretching to reach the tennis ball, Lauren Kleiber ('05) swings through one of her many fantastic shots! This was Lauren's first season on the JV Tennis Team.

With intense concentration, Ann Grant ('05) follows through on her fierce backhand shot! Ann's outstanding tennis career consisted of four years on Varsity, playing #3 Singles her Freshman Year and #1 Singles the next three years.

"I try to train 3 to 4 times a week and I try to work out at the BAC everyday," said Ann Grant ('05). Tennis is not for wimps! You have to train just as hard for tennis as you do for any other sport. All that hard training really pays off in the end though!

The co-captain of the Varsity Tennis Team has been the #1 singles player since she was a sophomore. "I train with my personal coach Glenn Johnson. I began playing tennis when I was four years old," Ann expressed.

Ann is ranked #1 in SEMTA (Southeastern Michigan Tennis Association), #38 in the Midwest, and #272 nationally. "I just signed a national letter of intent for Ferris State University, so I am playing for them. I am really excited!" Ann's future certainly looks very bright!

Do you need to touch up on your football skills? If so your football team is here to help. "I play center and I snap the ball to the quarterback. Playing center is fun because you get to hurt people on the other team," said Billy Fowler ('08). Josh Schulz ('08) stated, "I like playing wingback because I get to score, run, and block."

For the J.V. football team, Zack Davis ('07) commented, "I like to play wide receiver because I get to catch the ball and run." Luke Sheldon ('07) who plays on the defensive line said, "I play right guard. I like playing that because I get to cause others pain. My job is to block the other teams' players."

Passing the ball to a team member, Anna Garcia ('07) escapes a Marysville attack. Anna was a valuable player on the Junior Varsity team.

Going in for the layup, Jenna Wiley ('08) shoots for two points. JV won the game against Marysville, 52 to 22.

While dodging a block Maggie Gossman ('08) takes an open shot. Maggie spends most of her time practicing with the basketball hoop at the end of her road.

Searching for an open player, Tiffany Sparling ('08) keeps the ball safe. The Freshman basketball team had an outstanding record, 11 wins 7 losses.

Blocking an opponent, Lindsay Goetze ('08) watches her opponent. Half-way through Lindsay's freshman season she was moved to the JV team.

great results. The girl's Varsity team turned out to be great with a young team full of only four seniors, many juniors, and three sophomores. With a young team they worked to the limit and made it to districts. The girls had a great year. Same Bennett ('06) said, "Even though our team was young we came together and worked really hard. I can't wait 'til next season."

In JV action the girls worked to the extent of having many freshmen and only four sophomores. Together the girls came to be a family and enjoyed their season. "We worked hard and played together," said Casey Cambell.

As the freshman display a great amount of workmanship proving they could hang with the big dogs. "Our season was great. Although we lost a lot to the JV team we still came out on top," said Maggie Gossman

All three levels have accomplished a lot as a team. Everyone enjoyed watching these girls and they can't wait until next year's events.

It is Friday Night! The gym is packed, half of the bleachers covered in "Jamizzone". Our guys score another point and the crowd goes wild! You can hear the yelling of fans, air horns, cowbells, and everything else imaginable. A Cowbell? You heard right, a cowbell.

Though considered controversial, Andrew Bushor's ('05) cowbell was just an example of the lengths the "Jamizzone" members would go to in support of the Husky "Hoopsters". The team was a little disappointed at the loss of the cowbell. "I think it's sweet to have that kind of fan support," said Aaron Leonard ('05).

Whether it is air horns, drums, screaming, or cowbells the "Jamizzone" kids are here to show their school spirit. You will likely see "Jamizzone" covering any gymnasium where the Husky "Hoopsters" are playing. Look out for the "Jamizzone" kids showing their school spirit at every game.

With an effort to hit the ball, Libby Busdicker ('08) concentrates hard on the game. Libby's determination helps the huskies each and every game.

The mall, coffee stop or someone's house are not the only places where groups of Northern girls get together for fun... the court is a great place as well. Having a close-knit team is one of the reasons that the team is a success. As each player knows their role and how to work with best together.

Defense is always a major part of any sports team. Sophomore, Ralene Everitt raves about her role as a defensive specialist, "I'm part of the clean-up crew, I get all of the digs and do all of the dirty work."

When all of the dirty work is done it is time to bring out the offense. Touching the ball directly after a "dig" is always a setter, like varsity player Alissa Mathews ('05), "I control the tempo of the game and set up the 'big' plays." Finishing off a perfect volley is the hitter, who has one of the better known jobs in the game.

For many people wrestling is only a sport in which the opponents try to pin each other and score the most points, but to the Northern wrestling team it's much more than just a sport, it's a commitment to a "family."

"Wrestling is fun but sometimes painful. Not very many people give us credit for what we put our bodies through for a win, for our team and ourselves," says Kyle Reid ('05) many of the wrestlers agree with him upon the fact that people do not appreciate what the wrestlers put themselves through. There is also those who think that wrestling is only a physical sport, "Wrestling is not only a physical sport but also a mental, because our mind is a main part of a match because we have to think of every move before doing it," states Nash Rosenmund ('06).

In any occasion admirers believe that wrestling is a sport of pain but the Northern wrestlers think differently, they believe that wrestling is a sense of dedication and commitment.

Bowling for Turkeys

Gobble, gobble, gobble... bowling for turkeys doesn't necessarily mean poultry, but what is known is a triple or three consecutive strikes. It is one of the goals bowlers stride for when playing the game. Going back 7,000 years to ancient Egypt, it began as an outdoor game played with marble balls and nine pins. Carried through the generations to Babylonia and northern Italy, the game remained very popular with the excitement and thrill of competition among friends. "My favorite part about bowling is the emotion of the matches, just all the yelling and screaming," said Nathan Nosar ('08).

Reappearing about 800 years ago in England, the game was gaining more popularity and gave way to several other versions and variations like skittles and half-bowls. The Dutch introduced bowling in America and a tenth pin was added, which is how it remains today.

Bobby Marriott ('06) says, "My favorite aspect of bowling is the team effort; we all encourage each other and it makes the games more successful." Northern bowling for many of the players is about the noise. "Bowling is great! Matches are always loud, and the other coaches hate us for being loud; it gives us an edge," said Nathan Louks ('07).

Bowling Lingo

Six pack - Six strikes in a row

Kegler - A bowler (German word)

Goal Post - The 7-10 split

Graveyard(s) - An extremely difficult lane in the house

Blow - A miss or error failing to covert a spare other than a split

Nose - The front of the pin

Railroad - Split

Shots

A black blurr flies across the ice right to the center's stick. A blistering shot rockets toward the goalie and into the net! If you are wondering what in the world all of this means then you haven't been introduced to the great sport of hockey.

There are many different positions in hockey. One of the most important positions is the goalie. "The hardest part of being a goalie is being the last man back and having all of the pressure on you," said Justin Comstock ('06). Although the goalie is important, it takes more than one person to make a team. "Everyone on the team is really nice. We all bond together as a team," commented Ryan Axsom ('08).

All of the excitement of a hockey game really makes the crowd get on their feet and cheer. Tabby Ainsworth ('07) said, "I don't know much about hockey, but I really get into it. I yell and carry on." The fans of hockey all agree, hockey is one of the greatest sports in the world.

"Huge amounts of dedication, commitment and an open mind are a few important things that you need to play Hockey," says Erica Bailey ('05). Too many of the students consider hockey as just a game in which you skate and score. Many of the girls began hockey in their freshmen year and grew a huge liking for it. "This is my fifth year. I got started by watching my friend play at McMorran so I gave it a shot," said Danielle May ('07).

Hockey isn't the only sport "battled out" on the ice. Figure skating is full of falls and injuries too. Figure skating is also based upon dedication, commitment, and the love of the game. "My team skates every Monday, but I skate Monday through Friday after school," said Katie Miller ('08). There are times in which the girls want to quit. "Skating is tough because every fall makes you feel like giving up. When you have the motivation to keep working and you finally perfect something all the falls are worth it," said Kim Thomas ('07).

Leaving "Our" Lasting Impressions

Dear Huskies,

"Hail King Dwyer, King of the Chimps! Wait...wait...I am not a chimp!" Our yearbook for 2004-2005 was quite the experience, an outstanding experience of course. It was filled with many adventures. Some we hope to forget and others we hope to always remember.

Our marvelous editors met every one of our deadlines. We truly appreciate all their hard work and dedication. We worked as a team to create "our" lasting impression. All of this would definitely not have been possible without our amazing yearbook advisor, Mr. Dwyer! Whenever there was a problem he was able to solve it. He gave us the strength and encouragement we needed to keep going.

We really enjoyed putting together the Port Huron Northern Yearbook this year. It was such an honor to be the editors-in-chief of the yearbook. We'll be honest, there were times when we felt like quitting and thought to ourselves, "Is this really worth it?" We had our struggles, but we feel like we accomplished something that will be remembered for years and years to come. We have left our lasting impression.

Lastly, we never could have had a yearbook without all of you! We want to just thank you for being you. As each of us take the next step of our life we need to remember that everyone of us has truly made a positive lasting impression. For us, as editors-in-chief, yearbook has made it's lasting impression inside of us. This imprint forever embedded within us gives us confidence as we look to our future.

Sincerely your editors-in-chief,

Ann Grant and Jacki Corsetti

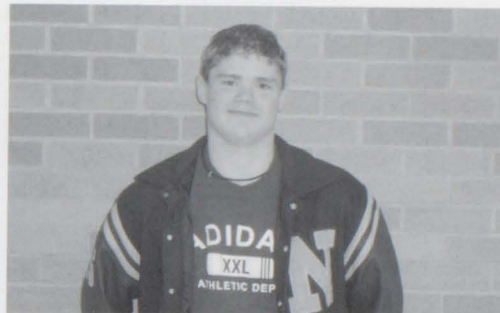

Denny Dwyer

We want to thank Mr. Dwyer for being such an awesome Yearbook advisor! We never could have done it without him. Thanks so much Mr. Dwyer!!

Our Final Impression...

Ann Grant and Jacki Corsetti

People leave all types of footprints when they walk through life. Some you can see-for example the legacy of their children. Others are invisible, the prints one leaves across other people's lives, the help one gives others, and what one has said- their jokes, gossip that has hurt others, and their encouragement. People do not think about it, but everywhere they pass, they leave some type of mark.

What type of mark have you left behind? Life is similar to a game of cards. The hand you are dealt is your life. However, the way you play it is free will. Did you play a good hand of cards? As you look back on your high school years, do you truly feel like you have left a positive lasting impression?

If you believe you have left a positive lasting impression behind you also have conquered the road to success. The road to success is uphill all the way. Anyone who wants to accomplish much must sacrifice much. Success is a continuing thing. It is growth and development. It is achieving one thing and using that as a stepping-stone to achieve something else. These "stepping-stones" help us with transitions into each stage of our lives.

Life is not advancement. It is growth. It does not move upward, but expands outward, in all directions. At times, the next stage of our lives may seem very frightening. Courage is the strength which enables us to endure any trial or danger. Therefore do not be afraid and have the courage to take that next step in the path of your life. All glory comes from daring to begin.

Behind each and every one of us is infinite power. Before us is endless possibility. Around us is boundless opportunity. Therefore, why should we fear? Each one of us has and will continue to leave our footprints in the sand...our lasting impressions.

-Ann Grant and Jacki Corsetti

Colophon

The 2005 Spirit: "Leaving A Lasting Impression" was chosen to get the school in it's entire to think of all of the people that make up a school and to remember all of the good things that one experiences and all the bad things that one overcomes. Editors-in-Chief Ann Grant and Jacki Corsetti along with the section editors Joe Moore, Caitlin Boyd, Kate Gossman, Miranda Grumbles, Aly Hicks, Tamara Lavati, Bobby Linder, Brian Robertson, Raleani Selby, Mike Smith, Cassey Stank, and Chelsea Winn and the help of thirteen staff members brought memories to page. The result was this 268 page manuscript that was completed by using PageMaker 8.0 lead by, planned, and created by the editors and staff.

The Herff-Jones production company in Shawnee Mission, Kansas printed Spirit 2004-2005 for students to remember their experiences in high school for the rest of their lives and beyond. The yearbook was sold at $55.00. 57 pages were printed on 4-color process, the cover is VTEX-1067 Navy, end sheets are white, and the paper stock is CCN-1 White. Also included is a Herff-Jones World Yearbook. Headline caption treatments vary by section and the copy body is AHJ Bodoni and AHJ Splatter. This yearbook was created through book and ad sales with resources made available by PHASD. Port Huron Northern is a member of Columbia Scholastic Press Association (CSPA) and Michigan Interscholastic Press (MIPA). Four associations have critiqued Spirit over the past 14 years, winning nine Spartan Awards from MIPA and several first place as well as many gold and bronze awards from CSPA.

Port Huron Northern's yearbook advisor, Dennis Dwyer, has also been a teacher for 5 years at our school.

The goal of Spirit staff was to create a yearbook that stands out from all other yearbooks created in the past. The staff wanted this book to be held close to everyone's hearts for years to come. Each one of us has truly left our positive lasting impressions.

Acknowledgements

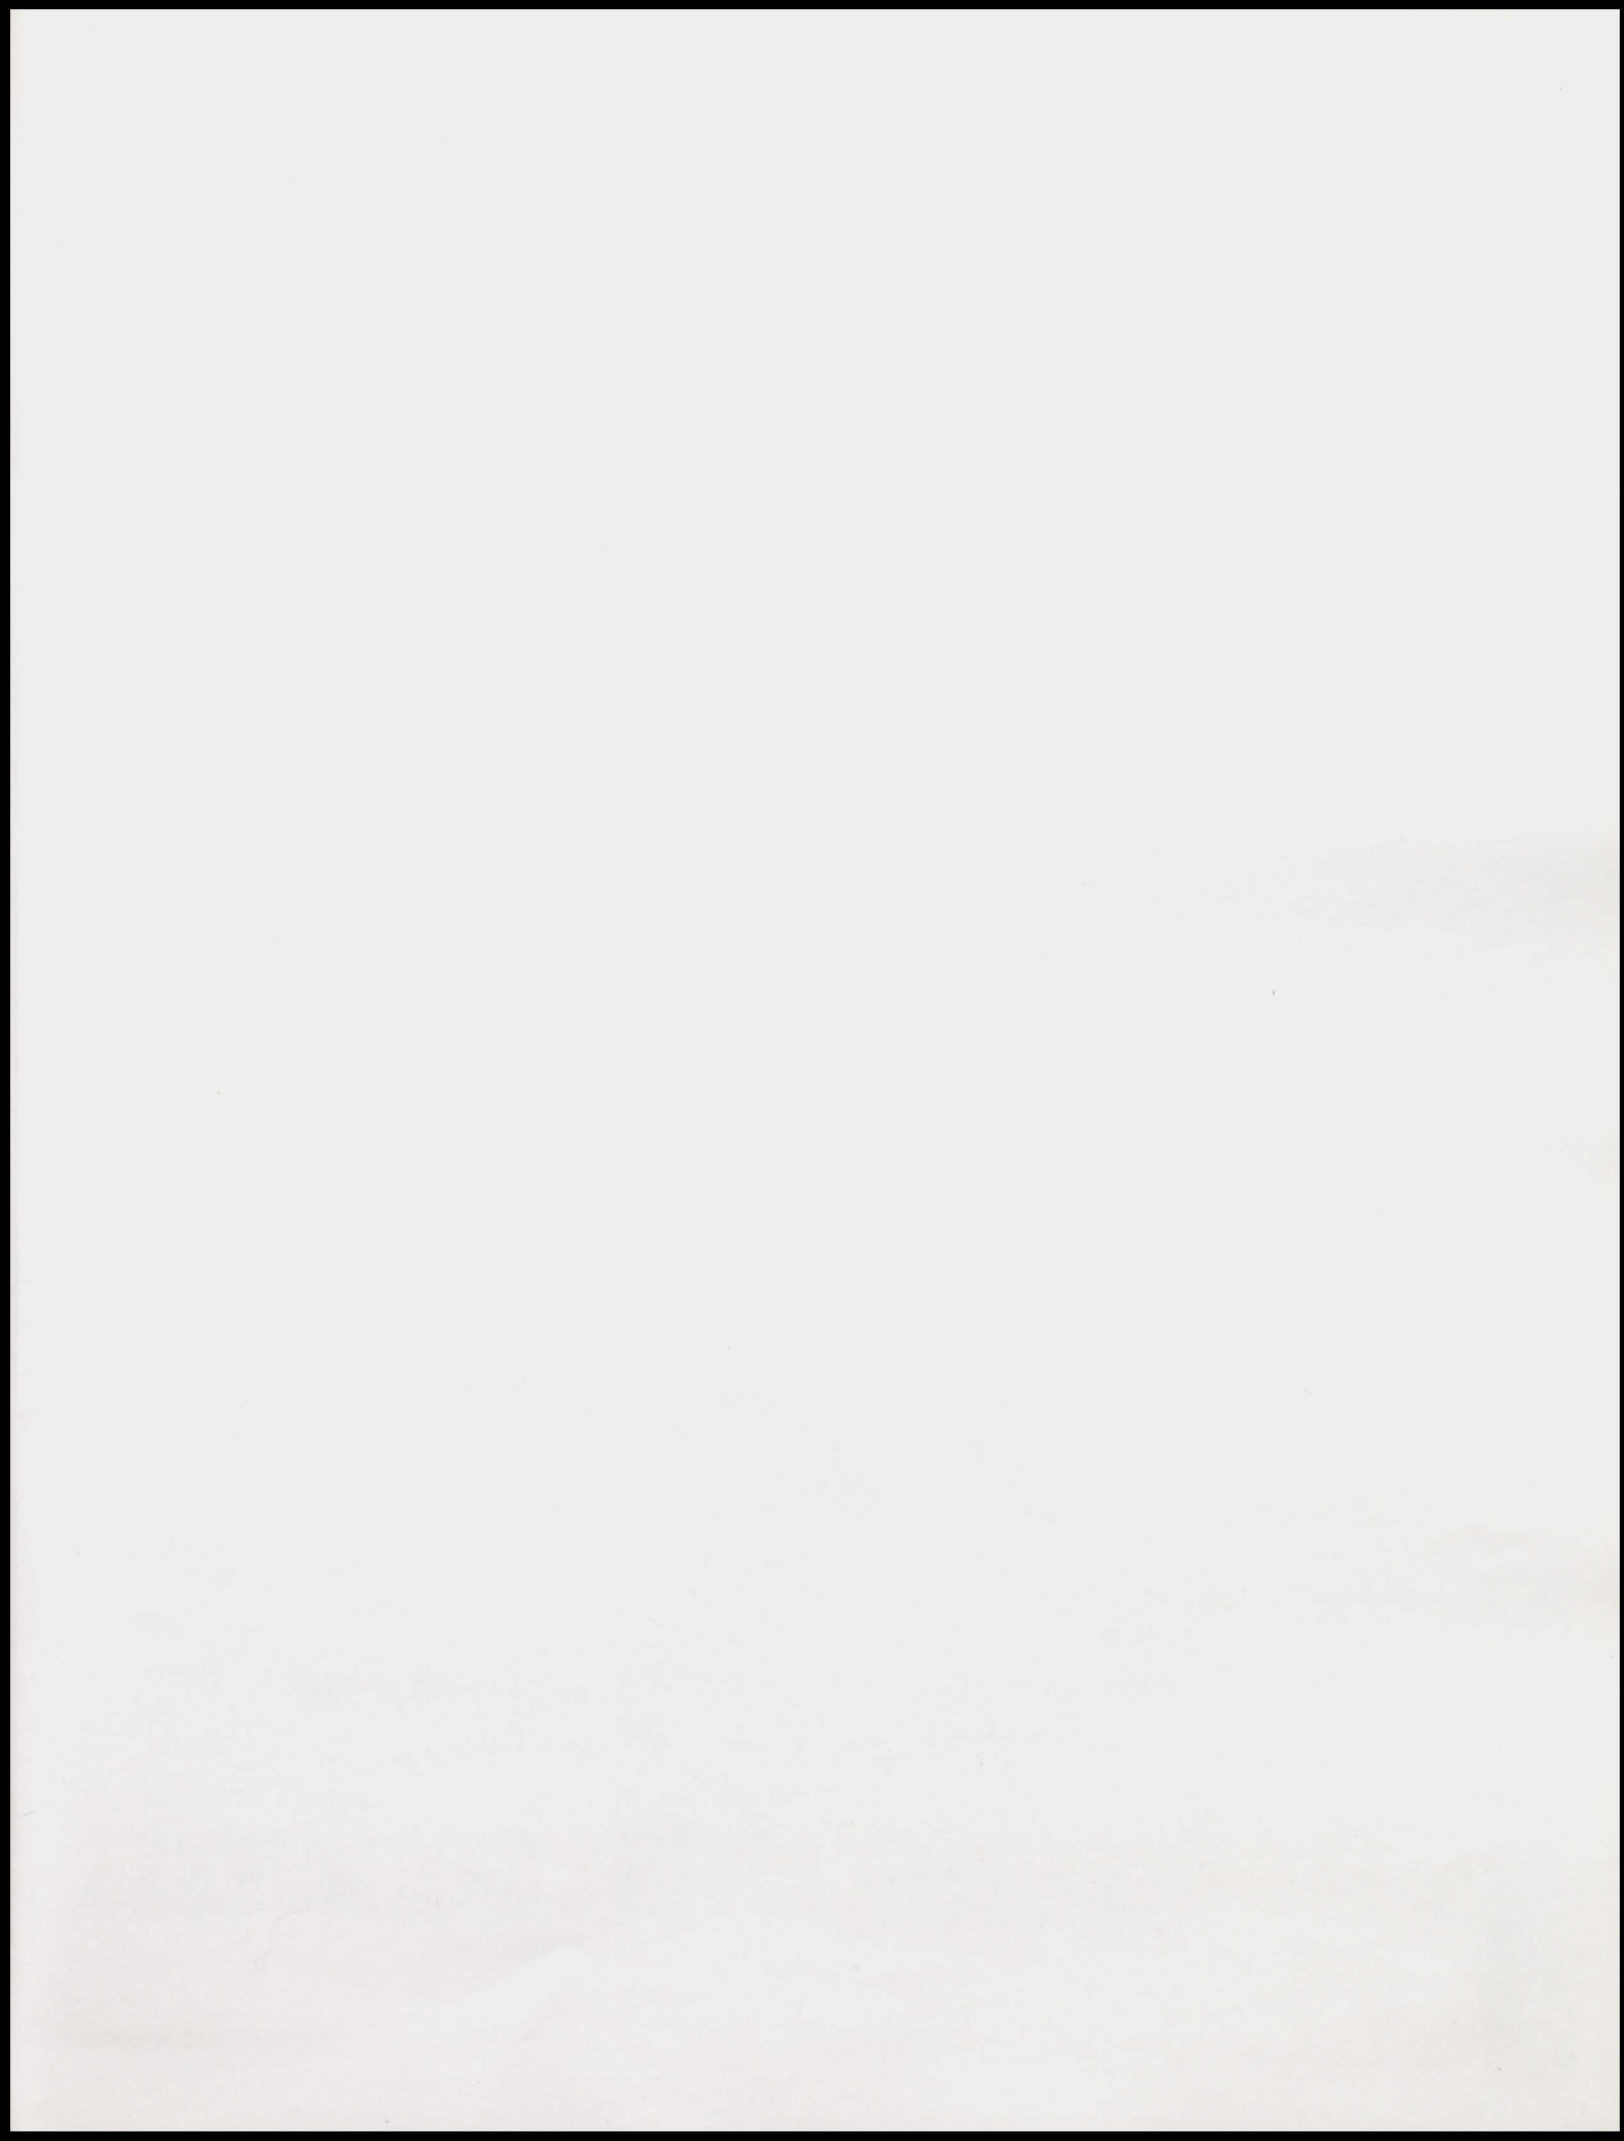

The yearbook would like to thank the people of Port Huron Northern High School in it's entire for their support and cooperation in the creation of this yearbook. A special thank-you to the administrators of Northern for understanding our position in this school: Mrs. Wojtas, Mr. Wagner, Mr. Mossett, Ms. Philpot, and Mrs. Forrest. A great amount of appreciation goes to the people whom supplied us with a plethora amount of information to make our yearbook as accurate and complete as possible: Mrs. Brennan, Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Cassady, Mrs. Maveety, Mrs. Korff, Mrs. Holzeberger, and Mrs. Wilton. To the wonderful handful who came to us at our beckon-call to rescue us from crashing computers, frozen discs, and low memory on our computers: Mr. Falk, Mr. Yunker, Nathan Holth, and Dr. Lewandowski. Thank-you to the following teachers for their help in further supplying us with needed information and strength: Mrs. Rogers, Mr. LaBelle, Mr. Adolf, Mrs. Politowicz, and Mrs. Erin Eastman. A thank-you to all of the counselors who were there for us when we needed them most and to Mr. Marsh and his custodial staff for being very patient with us not only during school hours but also into late hours of the night. Thanks to the noon-hour supervisors who let us run around and go about of business without asking for passes every ten seconds. Thanks Joel Weston for coming back for yet another year to help us. Thank-you Meijer for processing all of our pictures and handling our demands. Mr. McDonald made sure that our yearbook was complete with only the best group pictures one could take; his help went above and beyond the walls of the school. Last but certainly not least the biggest thank-you to the staff at Herff Jones. The yearbook would not exist without each and every one of them. Thank-you Tony Noto, Ann Rome, and Dave Smith for making our yearbook a memorable one. And thank-you to all of the parent's of editors for putting up with all of our stresses, being there for when we needed you most, and understanding the demanding needs of a yearbook.
